

Samuel de Champlain series in *The Sudbury Star

This series of articles written by John Grubber, presents Samuel de Champlain, his life, his accomplishments his impact and the mysteries surrounding him.

Living in Champlain's shadow

May 31, 2015

<http://www.thesudburystar.com/2015/05/31/living-in-champlains-shadown>

This article is a short biographical text about Samuel de Champlain

A man of many hats: Champlain the Renaissance man

June 7, 2015

<http://www.thesudburystar.com/2015/06/07/a-man-of-many-hats-champlain-the-renaissance-man>

Samuel de Champlain was a product of a time. He was an accomplished artist, writer, navigator, sailor, soldier, leader, cartographer, scientist, explorer and diplomat. These many skills served him and New-France well.

Looking for the real Champlain

June 14, 2015

<http://www.thesudburystar.com/2015/06/14/looking-for-the-real-champlain>

Champlain's official life is well documented but many questions about him remain unanswered such as his possible royal connection, what he physically looked like, if the astrolabe found near Cobden belonged to Champlain...

Champlain's legacy endures: Sudbury historian

June 22, 2015

<http://www.thesudburystar.com/2015/06/22/champlains-legacy-enduresn-history-his-influence-on-canada-is-still-presentoneplan>

This article looks at how we relate to Champlain and what we can learn from his life.